How does the lecture lottery work?

For every donation of $25 that you receive on behalf of your local society and send to AIA headquarters, your society's name will be entered into a drawing for a chance to win an additional lecture for the 2009-2010 Lecture Program. Please mention the Lecture Lottery when making your gift. The more $25 donations you collect, the more lottery entries you will receive! If you or your society gives a gift larger than $25, your society's name will be put into the lottery with each increment of $25. The easiest way to enter is by filling out the enclosed gift envelope, referencing your local society, and sending your donation to the AIA!

Are there any incentives for seeking donations, aside from the possibility of winning an additional lecture?

We very much want local societies to develop opportunities for AIA members and the public to engage with archaeology. As such, we have created a new incentive program whereby one-half of all Lecture Fund donations received from the society that wins the Lecture Lottery will be returned to your society so that you may organize and promote your programs!
