ABSOLUTE EGYPT

March 10 - 26, 2018 (17 days) with Dr. Stephen Harvey

"Your itinerary was very good. Thanks to you and my fellow travelers for my third wonderful AIA tour!"

- Cynthia, Virginia

Travel with Egyptologist Stephen Harvey on our meticulously-planned itinerary, featuring premium accommodations and a deluxe, 3-night Nile River cruise. Visit all the preeminent sites of the pharaohs from Cairo to Luxor, Aswan, and Abu Simbel including the stunning tombs of Seti I and Nefertari.

ITINERARY

(B)= Breakfast, (L)= Lunch, (R)=Reception, (D)= Dinner

Saturday, March 10, 2018: Depart Home

Sunday, March 11: Arrive Cairo, Egypt

You will be met upon arrival at Cairo's airport and transferred to the historic Mena House, a palatial hotel set amid forty acres of gardens, located less than half a mile from the Giza pyramids. This evening we gather for a welcome reception and dinner. Overnight at the Mena House for three nights. (R,D)

Monday, March 12: Cairo | Giza Plateau | Cairo

Spend the morning exploring the Giza Plateau, including the Great Pyramid of Khufu; Solar Boat Museum; Eastern Cemetery, with its vibrantly decorated mastaba of Meresankh III; mortuary temple of Khufu; timeless Sphinx; and nearby Valley Temple of Khafra. After lunch at a nearby restaurant we return to our hotel, where the balance of the afternoon is at leisure. Gather for dinner at the hotel this evening. (B,L,D)

"I genuinely appreciated the high level of organization and competence in all aspects of the trip."

- Ron, New York

Tuesday, March 13: Cairo | Saqqara | Serapeum | Memphis | Cairo

This morning we visit the Imhotep Museum on our way into the necropolis at Saqqara, where we see the Step Pyramid of Djoser, the pyramid and causeway of Unas, and the mastaba of Idut (daughter of the pharaoh Unas). Take a short drive to visit the nearby Serapeum, ancient burial place of the sacred (and mummified!) Apis bulls, as well as the Pyramid of Teti (with its ancient pyramid texts) and the tomb of Mereruka. After an outdoor lunch at Saqqara Palm Club, drive to Memphis to experience the newly devised walking circuit, which includes the colossal statue of Ramesses II; Temples of Sekhmet, Hathor, Ramses II, and Seti; Tombs of the High Priests; the West Gate of the once-massive Ptah Temple, chief god of Memphis; and the Apis House, where the sacred Apis bulls were embalmed. Return to our hotel in Cairo and gather this evening for dinner. (B,L,D)

Wednesday, March 14: Cairo | Egyptian Museum | Luxor

Spend the morning at the Egyptian Museum, which houses the celebrated treasures of Tutankhamen and the Royal Mummy Room. This afternoon we transfer to the airport for our flight to Luxor. Check-in to our elegant hotel on the east bank of the Nile and have dinner. Overnight at the Old Winter Palace Hotel for four nights. (B,L,D)

Thursday, March 15: Luxor | Karnak | Luxor Temple | Luxor

A short drive through town brings us to Karnak, the world's largest temple complex (built over the course of a thousand years), where a generous amount of time is scheduled for exploring. Our visit

*"It was an in depth visit to so many spectacular tombs and temples.
We could not have been more pleased!"*

will include Karnak's Open Air Museum, which has on display many newly reconstructed buildings. Return to our hotel for a late lunch and enjoy the afternoon at leisure. This evening we visit nearby Luxor Temple. (B,L,D)

Friday, March 16: Luxor | Valley of the Kings | Deir el Bahari | Luxor

In the Valley of the Kings, our morning exploration includes several amazing royal tombs, including the legendary Tomb of Tutankhamen and the spectacular Tomb of Seti I. After lunch, visit the stunning mortuary temple of Hatshepsut at Deir el Bahari, including the Third Terrace Sanctuary of Amun (closed to the public) with its beautifully preserved painted decoration and gilded decoration from Ptolemaic times. Return to our hotel on the east bank of the Nile, and gather this evening for dinner. (B,L,D)

(Above) The Tomb of Seti I, which you will visit on Mar. 16th, is the most complex tomb ever built in the Valley of the Kings.

Saturday, March 17: Luxor | Valley of the Queens | Deir el Medina | Luxor

Spend the morning in the Valley of the Queens, where we gain access to the touching Tomb of Khaemwaset, a young son of Ramses III; and the Tomb of Nefertari, often called the most beautiful tomb in Egypt. Continue on to Deir el Medina, the ancient village of the workers who built the pharaohs' tombs, where we visit the beautifully preserved Tomb of Sennedjem. Our last visit of the day is the tomb of Ramose. Return to our hotel and gather for dinner this evening. (B,L,D)

"It was a cohesive group, and I think it was so because of the extraordinary abilities of Dr. Harvey and our guide. They had the most thorough knowledge of Egypt's culture and history, past and present. Remarkable!"

- Judith, New York

Sunday, March 18: Luxor | Dendara | Abydos

We set out through the countryside to visit two of Egypt's most spectacular and under-visited sites. Our first visit is to the Temple of Hathor at Dendara, which has recently been extensively restored, revealing its startlingly well-preserved painted astronomical ceiling and reliefs. After checking into our simple but conveniently-located hotel at Abydos and having lunch, we will visit the archaeological site at Abydos. AIA study leader Stephen Harvey will share his experiences working there over the past 25 years, including information about exciting recent discoveries. Return to our hotel and gather for dinner this evening. Overnight at the House of Life Abydos hotel. (B,L,D)

Monday, March 19: Abydos | Luxor | Embarkation

Early risers might wish to return to Abydos this morning for further exploration. Later in the morning we will drive back to Luxor and embark our deluxe Nile riverboat. After lunch, visit the small but excellent Luxor Museum. Overnight aboard the five-star Sonesta Star Goddess for three nights. (B,L,D)

Tuesday, March 20: Nile Cruising | Esna

Enjoy a day at leisure aboard our riverboat. Cruising the Nile, we pass through the Esna Lock and dock for the night at Esna. (B,L,D)

Wednesday, March 21: Esna | Edfu | Kom Ombo

This morning we cruise to Edfu, where horse-drawn carriages will take us to the Temple of Horus, the best-preserved temple on the Nile. (Recent excavations have also revealed the earlier history of the town.) Continue cruising for most of the day, disembarking once for a short walk to visit the twin Temples of Sobek and Horus at Kom Ombo, including a visit to the magnificent (though small), new Crocodile Museum. Dock for the night at Kom Ombo. (B,L,D)

Thursday, March 22: Kom Ombo | Aswan | Disembarkation | Philae | Aswan

After breakfast, disembark our Nile riverboat at Aswan and visit an ancient granite quarry with an unfinished obelisk, before taking a short boat ride to the island of Philae for a visit of its Temple of Isis, which has been called Egypt's most beautiful temple. After lunch, enjoy a guided walk through Aswan's sug, the most charming and traditional of the markets in Egypt, where one can find interesting Nubian ethnographic items such as baskets, pottery, and scarves that are unique to the Aswan area. Check in to our beautiful, recently renovated hotel on the Nile, where we have some time to relax until we gather for dinner this evening. Overnight at the New Cataract Hotel for three nights. (B,L,D)

Friday, March 23: Aswan | Elephantine Island | Aswan

Embark feluccas (small, traditional sailing vessels) to visit the archaeological site on Elephantine Island. This afternoon, visit Aswan's elegant Nubia Museum, which exhibits many of the more than 3,000 artifacts recovered during the excavations of Nubian sites that were threatened by the construction of the High Dam. (B,L,D)

Saturday, March 24: Aswan | Abu Simbel | Aswan

Transfer to the airport early this morning for a short flight to Abu Simbel, where we visit the two fantastic rock-cut temples of Ramses II (built to honor himself and his queen, Nefertari). Moved when the Aswan High Dam was built, they are a marvel of ancient and modern engineering. Fly back to Aswan this afternoon for some time at leisure before we gather for dinner this evening. (B,L,D)

Sunday, March 25: Aswan | Cairo

Take a morning flight back to Cairo and check-in to our luxurious hotel, conveniently located at the airport. It features fully soundproofed rooms and direct access to Terminal 3 via footbridge. Enjoy lunch in the labyrinthine Khan el Khalili bazaar, a visit to the Islamic Art Museum, and a stroll through medieval Cairo, including a visit to one of its beautiful mosques. This evening we gather for a farewell reception and dinner at our hotel. Overnight at Le Méridien Cairo Airport. (B,L,R,D)

Monday, March 26: Cairo | U.S.

Check out this morning and enter the airport to catch flights homeward. (B)

Archaeological Institute of America Lecturer and Host

Since 1993, Stephen Harvey (Ph.D., U. of PA) has been Director of the Ahmose and Tetisheri Project, which centers on excavation of the monumental complex of King Ahmose at Abydos, under the aegis of the Pennsylvania-Yale-Institute of Fine Arts, NYU Expedition to Abydos. Steve's fieldwork in and around the pyramid complex of Ahmose (ca. 1550-1525 B.C.) has provided important new insight into temple architecture and decoration at the outset of Egypt's New Kingdom. He has also worked on archaeological projects in Egypt at Giza and Memphis, as well as in the U.S., Syria, and Turkey. Steve has been consulted on and interviewed for a number of television documentaries for NOVA on PBS, the History Channel, and National Geographic (among others). In 2013-14 he lectured on the Archaeological Institute of America's national circuit, which he did previously in 2008-09. Steve has also been a lecturer on many study tours to Egypt sponsored by major U.S. and UK institutions, including ten AIA tours of Egypt since 2002.

What to expect: This program involves extensive walking, often on uneven terrain or up and down stairs that may be steep and without handrails. All participants are expected to be physically active and not be an impediment to others on excursions, to enjoy traveling as part of a group, and to be ready to experience cultural differences. Participants who are not able to walk unassisted for extended periods are kindly advised not to join this tour unless accompanied by a companion who will be available to assist you at all times. If you have any questions about your ability to participate, we suggest that you visit your personal physician with this brochure in hand, and discuss whether or not the program is appropriate for you. At the time of year that we visit Egypt the weather is sunny and dry, with average daytime temperatures ranging from the high 60s to high 80s F. Complete pre-departure details, what to bring with you, and what to expect will be sent to participants.

Air arrangements and transfers: Airfare to/from Cairo is not included. Complimentary transfers in Egypt on arrival and departure are included. Once you have received your final payment invoice, you should book your flights. If you are considering booking your flights before this time, please contact our office first. We do not accept liability for cancellation penalties related to domestic or international airline tickets.

The Archaeological Institute of America & the AIA Tours Program
The Archaeological Institute of America (AIA) is the oldest and largest archaeological organization in North America. The AIA seeks to educate people of all ages about the significance of archaeological discovery. For more than a century the AIA has been dedicated to the encouragement and support of archaeological research and publication, and to the protection of the world's archaeological resources and cultural heritage. By traveling on an AIA Tour you directly support the AIA while personally gaining the benefit of the AIA's network of scholars and worldwide contacts.
