

Gotland Archaeological Field School

Are you interested in archaeology and Scandinavian history? The 2020 field course will investigate Iron Age burials on the southeastern coast of Gotland as part of an ongoing research project.

Students will learn:

- excavation procedures from start to finish
- written and drawn documentation
- field surveying methods
- finds processing, cataloguing, and analysis

The course also includes:

- lectures about Gotland's unique history and archaeology from professionals in the field
- excursions to different cultural sites around the island
- excursion to Visby, a World Heritage Site, and to Gotland's famous Medieval Week

Visit our homepage for more information:

www.gotland-fieldschool.com.

Facebook and Instagram:
@GotlandFieldSchool