Field School Program

Balkan Heritage 2027

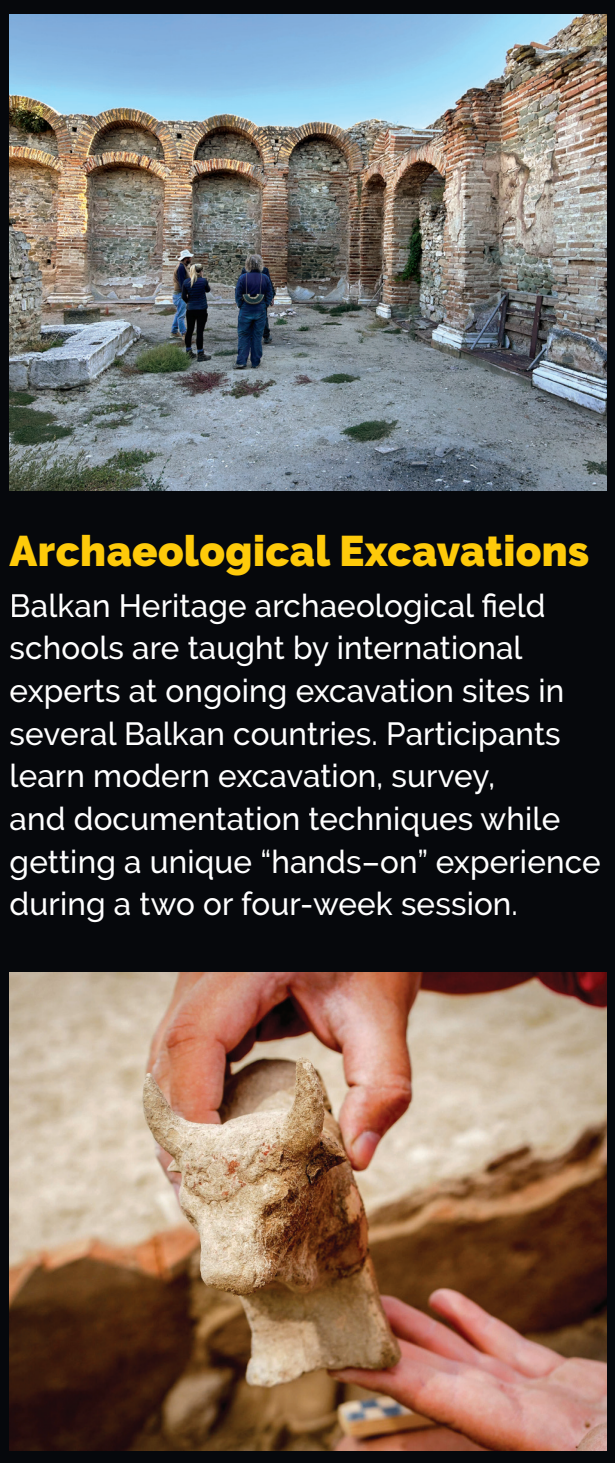

Balkan Heritage Field School (BHFS) is a program of the Balkan Heritage Foundation, a Bulgarian non-profit cultural organization, that offers practical education in the archaeology and history of Southeastern Europe and the Mediterranean as well as in the documentation and conservation of historic monuments and artifacts. Since 2008, more than 2000 students from around the world have attended our field schools in Bulgaria, the Republic of North Macedonia, Greece, and Montenegro.

Archaeological Excavations

Balkan Heritage archaeological field schools are taught by international experts at ongoing excavation sites in several Balkan countries. Participants learn modern excavation, survey, and documentation techniques while getting a unique "hands–on" experience during a two or four-week session.

Conservation Field Schools

Our conservation workshops teach participants how to handle, conserve, and document authentic monuments and artifacts while helping local institutions preserve their rich architectural heritage and collections. Our 2027 workshops cover ancient Greek pottery, Roman and Late Roman architecture, pottery and glass, as well as historic metal, paper, and textiles.

Medieval Heritage Expeditions

Our heritage expeditions provide unique opportunities to document abandoned medieval settlements and churches and their frescoes in Bulgaria and Serbia. Participants learn field survey, assessment, and photographic techniques while contributing to the documentation and preservation efforts for these sites.

Uncover the Past, Create Memories for the Future!

- Explore Unique Sites and Gain Hands-On Experience: Journey to fascinating archaeological sites around the Balkans, each with its own rich history waiting to be uncovered.
- Expert Guidance: Learn from experienced archaeologists and other experts who will guide you through the process, sharing their knowledge and passion for the past.
- Connect and Build Friendships: Forge lasting connections with fellow adventurers who share your enthusiasm for uncovering the mysteries of the past.

Immerse yourself in the unique culture of the Balkans!
