Highlights are many and varied:

- Spend two full days visiting museums in Cairo (the new National Museum of Egyptian Civilization and the historic Egyptian Museum) or two full days exploring Giza's Grand Egyptian Museum if it is open.
- Gain inside access to the Red Pyramid at Dahshur, enter the burial chamber of the collapsed pyramid at Meidum, and visit two mud-brick pyramids at the Fayoum Oasis.

- Explore the necropoli of Beni Hasan, known for its 39 rock-cut tombs with well-preserved paintings of dancing, acrobatics, juggling, fishing, hunting, and weaving; and Tuna el-Gebel, with huge catacombs for thousands of mummified ibises and baboons, and much more.
- Visit Tell el-Amarna, which replaced Thebes (modern Luxor) as capital of Egypt under the heretic, 18th-dynasty Pharaoh Akhenaton and was significant for its monotheism and distinctive artistic style.
- Enjoy two in-depth visits to Abydos, where Stephen Harvey has worked since 1993, including visits to the spectacular Temple of Seti I, with its invaluable "Abydos King List" and chapels with exquisite reliefs; and special access to the subterranean Osireion (symbolic tomb of Osiris), centered around a burial chamber that was once surrounded by water.
- Discover two interesting and lesser-visited sites near Luxor: the Temple of Montu (the falcon-headed god of war) at El-Tod, and the tomb of Ankhthifi, a provincial governor and warlord, at El-Mo'alla.

“Steve Harvey’s enthusiasm and incredible appreciation and knowledge of Egyptian history, archaeology, and ability to read hieroglyphs at a glance made everything come alive.”

- Cynthia, Virginia

AIA Lecturer & Host

Since 1993, Stephen Harvey (Ph.D., U. of PA) has been Director of the Ahmose and Tetisheri Project, which centers on excavation of the monumental complex of King Ahmose at Abydos, under the aegis of the Pennsylvania-Yale-Institute of Fine Arts, NYU Expedition to Abydos. Steve’s fieldwork in and around the pyramid complex of Ahmose (ca. 1550-1525 B.C.) has provided important new insight into temple architecture and decoration at the outset of Egypt’s New Kingdom. He has been working on archaeological projects in Egypt (including at Giza and Memphis) since 1987, and has also worked on projects in the U.S., Syria, and Turkey. Steve has been consulted on and interviewed for a number of television documentaries for NOVA on PBS, the History Channel, National Geographic, and the Travel Channel (among others). In 2013-14 and 2008-09, he lectured on the Archaeological Institute of America’s national circuit. Steve has also been a lecturer on many study tours to Egypt sponsored by major U.S. and UK institutions. Since 2002 he has accompanied 18 AIA tours of Egypt, plus AIA Tours land programs in Jordan and an AIA-sponsored cruise from Jordan to Cyprus via Egypt and Lebanon.

What to Expect

You must be able to make long walks, unassisted, over uneven terrain and up and down steps. Participants who are not able to walk or stand unassisted for extended periods are kindly advised not to join this tour. All participants are expected to be physically active and not be an impediment to others on excursions, to enjoy traveling as part of a group, and to be ready to experience cultural differences. Some sites require strenuous and/or brisk walking or climbing, sometimes with difficult footing, for several hours at a time. All participants will be required to follow safety/sanitization protocols set forth by Sponsors/Operator, local staff, and host country laws. If the tour manager decides that a participant cannot visit a site safely or in a timely manner, their judgment will be final. Where possible, an alternate activity may be suggested; additional costs may apply. If you have any questions about your ability to participate, we suggest that you visit your personal physician with this brochure in hand and discuss whether or not this program is appropriate for you. Hotels have been chosen for their excellent locations and generous comfort. At the time of year that we visit Egypt the weather is sunny and dry. Average daytime temperatures may range from the mid-60s to mid-70s F, and nighttime temperatures may dip into the high 40s F. Expect daytime temperatures in Sudan to be higher, ranging from the low to mid-90s F, and nighttime temperatures in the mid 60s F. Complete pre-departure details, including up-to-date COVID-related protocols, will be sent to participants.

ITINERARY

Friday, January 13, 2023: Fly to Cairo, Egypt

Saturday, January 14: Arrive in Cairo | Private transfer to hotel in Giza

You will be met upon arrival at Cairo International Airport (CAI) and transferred to the historic Mena House, a palatial hotel set amid 40 acres of gardens, with magnificent views of the adjacent Great Pyramid of Khufu (Cheops). Overnight at the 5-star Marriott Mena House \(Pyramid View rooms\) for four nights. (D)

Sunday, January 15: Egyptian Museum or Grand Egyptian Museum | Welcome dinner

We will visit the historic Egyptian Museum to see treasures that most visitors missed during their previous visits, including the golden treasures of Tanis. Alternatively, if the Grand Egyptian Museum (GEM) is open, we will visit it instead to see Tutankhamun's funerary collection, the reconstructed 4,000-year-old Khufu ship, colossal statues of Ramesses the Great, and more. We gather for a welcome reception and dinner with your three expert tour leaders: AIA lecturer/host, Egyptology guide, and tour manager. (B,L,R,D)

Monday, January 16: Dahshur: Bent & Red Pyramids | Saqqara excavations

Drive to Dahshur, part of the UNESCO World Heritage Site "Memphis and its Necropolis – the Pyramid Fields from Giza to Dahshur," where we will learn firsthand about the transition from step-sided to smooth-sided pyramids. See 4th-dynasty Pharaoh Snefru's Bent Pyramid, whose appearance is due to miscalculations on the structural weight and slope of the blocks. Learning from these mistakes, Snefru went on to build the shorter North (Red) Pyramid, which was the first completed true pyramid. We will have inside access to the Red Pyramid. At Dahshur, we can see from a distance both the remains of Amenemhet III's pyramid, known as the 'Black Pyramid' due to the exposed dark color of its mudbrick core, as well as the remains of the pyramid of Senwosret III of the 12th dynasty, where the Metropolitan Museum of Art currently conducts excavation and restoration.

After lunch we enjoy a behind-the-scenes visit to the vast, ancient burial ground of Saqqara to see some of the new excavations (not open to the public) dating to the Old and New Kingdoms. Pending final confirmation, we will also gain special access to the recently-discovered, 5th-dynasty Tomb of Wah Ti. The condition of this tomb is exceptional, especially for its age, and the two-story structure contains dozens of sculptures as well as scenes of daily life. Return to our hotel and gather for dinner this evening. (B,L,D)

Tuesday, January 17: National Museum of Egyptian Civilization or Grand Egyptian Museum

We will visit the National Museum of Egyptian Civilization (NMEC), which opened in 2017, housing materials from all periods of Egyptian archaeology, including the Gallery of Royal Mummies. Alternatively, if the Grand Egyptian Museum (GEM) is open, we will return to see more of the GEM's collections not seen on Sunday, January 15th. (B,L,D)

Wednesday, January 18: Meidum | Fayoum (Faiyum) Oasis: Illahun & Hawara

This morning we drive south to visit 4th-dynasty Pharaoh Snefru's collapsed pyramid at Meidum, which represents the transition between step pyramids and true pyramids. Its construction began as a stepped pyramid, but nearer completion the steps were filled in and it was cased with limestone. At some point in (probably) the New Kingdom, it began to collapse and today stands only its three-stepped core amid a pile of rubble from its exterior. We will enter its burial chamber through a corridor that descends 177 feet. Continue driving to the southern edge of the

Fayoum Oasis, a region that was popular with Middle Kingdom pharaohs and high officials for hunting and fishing. Here we will visit the mud-brick Illahun pyramid built for 12th-dynasty Pharaoh Senwosret II, and the mud-brick Hawara pyramid built for 12th-dynasty Pharaoh Amenemhet III. Check-in to our hotel and gather for dinner this evening. Overnight at the 5-star Helnan Auberge Fayoum for two nights. (B,L,D)

Thursday, January 19: Fayoum Oasis: Kom Aushim, Tunis pottery village

This morning we drive to Kom Aushim (ancient Karanis), the site of a Greco-Roman town with two well-preserved temples, one of which (from the 1st century B.C.) was dedicated to two crocodile gods. Explore its recently-opened site museum and an open-air display of columns and statuary from Kiman Faris (Middle Kingdom Crocodilopolis). After lunch in the charming town of Tunis, on the edge of Lake Qaroun, we visit Tunis's pottery-making village which comprises a number of workshops that create and display their handmade ceramics. Return to our hotel and gather for dinner this evening. (B,L,D)

Friday, January 20: Al Minya | Beni Hasan

This morning we drive to Al Minya, about 150 miles south of Cairo, which offers a glimpse into the unhurried, traditional life along the Nile that has persisted for millennia. Arrive at our hotel, have lunch, and then drive to the east bank to visit the necropolis of Beni Hasan, known for its 39 rock-cut tombs of 11th- and 12th-dynasty officials. We will undertake an invigorating climb up broad, deep steps to explore some of the tombs in the limestone cliff face. Some of the tombs feature well-preserved paintings of dancing, acrobatics, juggling, fishing, hunting, and weaving. Return to our hotel in Al Minya, and gather for dinner this evening. Overnight at the Grand Aton Hotel for two nights. (B,L,D)

Saturday, January 21: Tuna el-Gebel | Al Minya: Malawi Museum

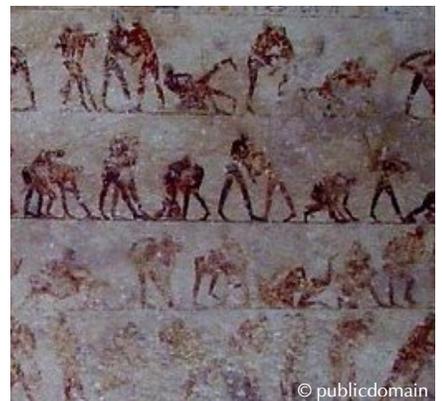

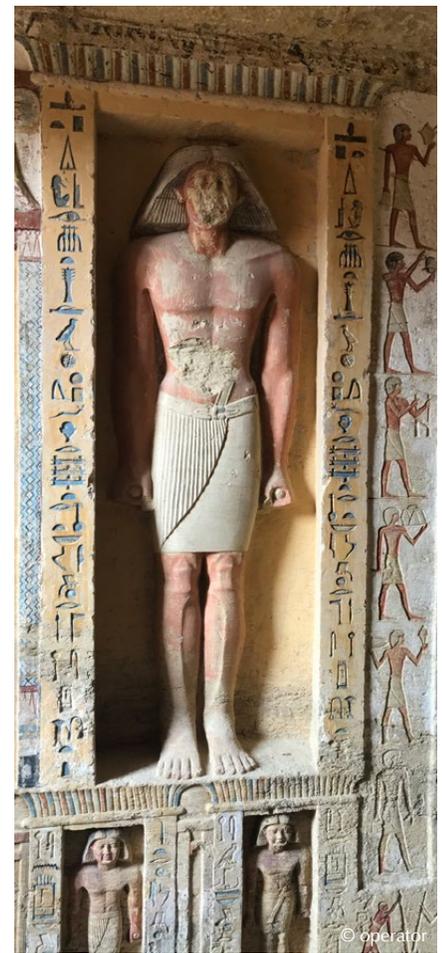

Drive south this morning to Tuna el-Gebel, a necropolis with tombs that date from the Late Period to the Ptolemaic era, as well as huge catacombs for thousands of mummified ibises and baboons, both of which were considered incarnations of Thoth, the god of writing and wisdom. One of its more fascinating tombs is that of Petosiris, which features lively scenes of daily life and ritual that combine Egyptian, Greek, and Persian artistic styles. The site also includes the ruins of a Christian basilica, and Roman waterworks with a 100-foot-deep well and a water wheel. Recent excavations by a joint Egyptian-German team have uncovered a series of tombs and a mud-brick structure from the Ptolemaic era with more than 50 rooms. Back in Al Minya we visit the Malawi Museum, whose exhibits of regional artifacts include some from the sites of Tuna el-Gebel and Tell el-Amarna (we visit the latter tomorrow). Return to our hotel and gather for dinner this evening. (B,L,D)

Sunday, January 22: Tell el-Amarna | Abydos

Set out today for Abydos, stopping along the way to visit Tell el-Amarna, once called Akhetaton ("horizon of the sun"). The controversial pharaoh Akhenaton (Amenhotep IV) built the city on the Nile's east bank in the late 18th dynasty, to replace Thebes (modern Luxor) as capital. He established Amarna as the first monotheistic community in ancient Egypt, worshipping the god Aton (the sun). The site today comprises temples, palaces, houses, and more than 25 tombs at the base of a cliff. We will visit some of the richly-decorated rock-cut tombs of the nobles which feature scenes of life in the ancient city, represented in the lively style of the Amarna period. Continue driving south to Abydos and check-in to our simple but conveniently-located hotel. Overnight at the House of Life Abydos hotel for two nights. (B,L,D)

Monday, January 23: Abydos: Shunet es-Zebib, Kom-el-Sultan, Temple of Seti I, Osireion

Abydos is one of the oldest and most important ancient cities in Egypt, and AIA lecturer Stephen Harvey has worked here since 1993. We will take an in-depth look at this vast site today and tomorrow morning. Begin today with a visit to Shunet es-Zebib, one of the oldest standing massive brick structures in the world, the architecture of which points to some features of later structures, like the Step Pyramid of Djoser at Saqqara. Next explore Kom el-Sultan, another large, Early Dynastic Period mud-brick structure, which includes an early Temple of Osiris where excavations have revealed hundreds of stelae yielding information about the cult of Osiris. The only known statue of Khufu was found here, and recently a portal temple to Ramesses II was excavated.

Photos (from top): Boundary stela A, located on the approach to Tuna el-Gebel, marking the boundary of the ancient city of Amarna (Akhetaton); Temple relief at Abydos

After lunch we will visit the spectacular Temple of Seti I, where was discovered the “Abydos King List”—the long, invaluable list of pharaohs of the principal dynasties (as recognized by Seti) that was inscribed on a wall. The temple also has seven chapels with exquisite reliefs. We will also be granted private access to the intriguing, subterranean Osireion (symbolic tomb of Osiris), accessible via a 420-foot-long passageway and centered around a burial chamber that was once surrounded by water. Return to our hotel and gather for dinner this evening. (B,L,D)

Tuesday, January 24: Abydos | Dendara | Luxor

Return to Abydos this morning to visit the Temple of Ramesses II, with the impressive reliefs of the Battle of Kadesh on its exterior walls and delicately preserved paint colors. After lunch we drive to Luxor, stopping en route at the Temple of Hathor at Dendara, which has recently been extensively restored, revealing its startlingly well-preserved painted astronomical ceiling and reliefs. Continue driving to Luxor, where we settle in at our hotel and gather for dinner this evening. Overnight at the 5-star Sofitel Winter Palace Luxor Hotel \(Old Wing\) for three nights. (B,L,D)

Wednesday, January 25: Ramesseum | Medinet Habu

This morning we drive across the Nile to the west bank to visit the Ramesseum, the funerary temple of Ramesses II (“The Great”). It is known for its 57-foot-tall seated statue of Ramesses II (of which huge fragments remain), the subject of Percy Bysshe Shelley’s poem “Ozymandias.” It is also renowned for its reliefs, including those depicting the Battle of Kadesh, the Syrian wars, and the Festival of Min. Continue to the best-preserved temple of ancient Thebes: Medinet Habu, the mortuary temple of Ramesses III. It dates from the early 18th dynasty and, besides its impressive size and architectural features, it includes famous reliefs depicting the defeat of the Sea Peoples during Ramesses III’s reign. A Coptic church was later established in the second courtyard of the mortuary temple. Return to Luxor and gather for dinner this evening. (B,L,D)

Thursday, January 26: El-Tod | El-Mo’alla

A short drive along the east bank of the Nile brings us to a lesser-visited site, the Temple of Montu (the falcon-headed god of war) at El-Tod. Its surviving monuments date back to the New Kingdom and Ptolemaic and Roman periods. The main temple was begun by Ptolemy VIII and consists of a columned court and hall with various chambers, several with excellent reliefs, as well as a hidden treasury room above the chapel. The Tod Treasure, discovered in 1936 and today in the Louvre Museum in Paris, features a series of silver vessels, many in Aegean style, which demonstrate connections to the Bronze Age Minoan culture, as well as exotic items made of lapis lazuli. Another short drive south takes us to a desolate, windswept desert cliff along the Nile’s east bank with many ancient tombs. Here, at El-Mo’alla, the small, decorated tomb of Ankhtifi, a 9th-dynasty provincial governor and warlord, features an important autobiographical inscription as well as interesting scenes painted in a charming provincial style that reflect the collapse of central government. Return to Luxor and gather for dinner this evening. (B,L,D)

Friday, January 27: Luxor: At leisure | Fly to Cairo

Aside from a morning lecture and lunch, the morning and afternoon are at leisure for independent pursuits. You might enjoy the property and amenities of our historic hotel (there are lovely gardens and a swimming pool); visit Luxor Temple, adjacent to our hotel; or explore the nearby Luxor bazaar. Late this afternoon we transfer to Luxor’s airport in time for our short flight to Cairo. Upon arrival, we check-in to our luxurious and convenient airport hotel with fully sound-proofed rooms. Overnight at the 5-star Le Méridien Cairo Airport Hotel for two nights. (B,L,D)

Saturday, January 28: Cairo: Mosque of Ibn Tulun | Khan el-Khalili bazaar | Farewell dinner

This morning visit the 9th-century Mosque of Ibn Tulun, which is both Cairo’s largest mosque in terms of land area and its oldest mosque in its original form; and the adjacent Gayer-Anderson Museum, a superb example of 17th-century domestic architecture with splendid furniture, carpets, curios, and other objects. Enjoy lunch and browsing in Khan el-Khalili, the famous souq (bazaar). This evening we gather with our AIA lecturer, Egyptology guide, and tour manager for a cocktail reception and farewell dinner. (B,L,R,D)

Sunday, January 29: Fly home

Check out this morning and enter the airport (our hotel has direct access to Terminal 3 via footbridge, and a free shuttle to Terminal 2) to catch flights homeward. (B)

Sunday, January 8: Nile Cruise | Naqa | Musawwarat es-Sufra | Shendi | Tented Camp

This morning we drive north and embark a motorboat to see the Nile's Sixth Cataract (waterfall). There are only six cataracts on the main river and this one is the smallest and the southernmost. At Naqa we will see nomads watering their animal flocks at the old water well. Then visit a 1st-century A.D. temple dedicated to the god Abedmak, with bas-reliefs of a lion's head and large reliefs depicting King Natakamani and Queen Amanitore. Nearby is the well-preserved, 1st-century A.D. Temple of Amun with a row of ram statues and a hypostyle hall. Naqa is part of the UNESCO World Heritage Site called "Archaeological Sites of the Island of Meroë," which was the center of the ancient kingdom of Kush (8th century B.C. to 4th century A.D.), between the Nile and Atbara Rivers. Kush occupied ancient Egypt for almost 100 years.

Across the Awatib Valley we visit Musawwarat es-Sufra, also part of the aforementioned UNESCO World Heritage Site and one of Sudan's most significant archaeological sites. The site dates to the Meroitic era (300 B.C. to A.D. 350) and includes a vast complex known as the "Great Enclosure," comprising religious temples, buildings, corridors, ramps, and courtyards; plus the nearby Lion Temple. In the nearby town of Shendi we will visit (time permitting) a local home to observe the weaving of traditional cotton textiles. Then we check-in to our comfortable and tastefully-furnished tented camp. Each of its 22 twin-bedded tents has its own private bathroom with shower and toilet, plus a veranda with chairs and a view of the pyramids of Meroë. Overnight at the Meroë Tented Camp for two nights. (B,L,D)

Monday, January 9: Meroë Pyramids & The Royal Town of Meroë | Tented Camp

Early risers may choose to join our guide for sunrise at the Meroë Pyramids. Either way, after breakfast we will take a walking tour of the Meroë Pyramids: two clusters of approximately 100 "black pyramids" that rise dramatically out of reddish sand. The Kushite Kingdom moved its center here around 270 B.C., and this site is the third component of the "Archaeological Sites of the Island of Meroë" UNESCO World Heritage Site. Pending permission, we visit the burial chamber of pyramid N9. Continue driving a short distance westward, toward the Nile, to visit (pending permission) the metropolis of Meroë (the royal town) whose ruins of temples and palaces have Egyptian, Hellenistic, and Sudanese influences. Scattered throughout are shards of glazed black iron and iron ore; ancient Meroë is reputed to be the earliest African center to mine and refine iron ore. Later we stroll through a local market and enjoy a coffee or tea. Return to our tented camp for a break and then return to the Meroë pyramids this evening to enjoy sunset among the pyramids. (B,L,D)

Tuesday, January 10: Bayuda Desert | al-Ghazali Monastery | Nuri Pyramids | Karima

Depart our tented camp early this morning and embark on a beautiful drive across the Bayuda Desert, in the eastern Sahara. Stop for lunch in the Marwa Valley, where many nomads gather to water their camels and other animals. Continue driving to the 7th- or 8th-century Christian monastery of al-Ghazali, which may have been founded by King Mercurios who was key in the development of Nubian Christianity. Next we explore the cemetery and necropolis at Nuri, which was the royal burial ground for dozens of pharaohs and Nubian kings including 25th-dynasty Pharaoh Taharqa, whose pyramid is the largest in ancient Nubia. We then drive across the Nile to Karima, a market town flanked by desert, and check-in to our hotel. Overnight at the Nubian Rest House for two nights. (B,L,D)

Wednesday, January 11: El-Kurru | Gebel Barkal

Embark a motorboat to travel a short distance up the Nile to visit El-Kurru, one of ancient Kush's most important sites and today part of the UNESCO World Heritage Site of "Gebel Barkal and the Sites of the Napatan Region." El-Kurru was a royal pyramid burial ground for many 9th- to 7th-century B.C. Napata Dynasty kings and queens, some of whom ruled in 25th dynasty Egypt. We descend stairs to visit two burial chambers and view their well-preserved wall paintings. A short drive takes us to a valley filled with petrified trees before we return to Karima.

After lunch we visit nearby Gebel Barkal, a massive, isolated sandstone mountain that was a source of sacred myths among Egyptians and Nubians. During the New Kingdom and through the 25th dynasty, when Nubians ruled Egypt, the town of Gebel Barkal was known as Napata. In 1870, Giuseppe Verdi was inspired to compose the opera Aida by excavations that revealed Nubians had ruled Egypt from Napata. We visit the huge Temple of Amun, the temple of the goddess Mut, and the pyramids west of the mountains. Time- and interest-permitting, we return to Gebel Barkal to climb up the mountain and enjoy the sunset overlooking the temples, pyramids, and Nile. Return to our hotel for dinner. (B,L,D)

Thursday, January 12: Old Dongola | Khartoum

We depart Karima this morning and drive along the Nile to the village of Old Dongola, capital of the Christian kingdom of Makuria (A.D. 580–1450), on the Nile's east bank. The site is a complex of beautifully-decorated and -painted churches, offices, and a palace. We explore the column church and see the exterior of the old monastery, and then cross the Nile River twice on our return to Khartoum. Overnight at the 5-star Corinthia Khartoum Hotel for two nights. (B,L,D)

Friday, January 13: Khartoum: National Museum of Sudan | Nile Cruise | Khartoum: Mahdi Tomb, Khalifa House Museum, Omdurman Souk, Dervish Dance | Special dinner

Today is dedicated to highlights of Khartoum, including the garden area of the National Museum of Sudan to see the rescued and reconstructed temples brought from Old Halfa by UNESCO. Enjoy a 40-minute Nile cruise, during which we see the meeting of the White and the Blue Niles. Then we return to Khartoum and visit the tomb of the Muslim religious leader and self-proclaimed Mahdi, Muhammad Ahmad, whose troops besieged Khartoum and killed British General Charles George Gordon in 1885. Visit the Khalifa House Museum and explore the Omdurman Souk, Sudan's biggest market, with craft and souvenir shops. Before sunset, we witness the Dervish dance in Hamed el-Nil cemetery. Return to our hotel, freshen up, and gather for our final dinner in Sudan, with live music, at a local restaurant. (B,L,D)

Saturday, January 14: At leisure | Fly to Cairo, EGYPT | Giza

Today is at leisure to relax at our hotel before we transfer to Khartoum International Airport

(KRT) for our evening flight to Cairo, Egypt. Upon arrival, we check-in to our luxurious hotel at the foot of the Giza Pyramids and begin the main tour. (B, in-flight dinner)

TERMS AND CONDITIONS, RELEASE OF LIABILITY, ASSUMPTION OF RISK, AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION AGREEMENT

RESPONSIBILITY: The Archaeological Institute of America and its agent, Eos Study Tours, and its and their employees, shareholders, subsidiaries, affiliates, officers, directors or trustees, successors, and assigns (hereinafter "Sponsors"), and the tour operator and/or its agents (collectively "Sponsors/Operator") do not own or operate any entity which is to or does provide goods or services for your trip including, for example, lodging facilities; airline, vessel, or other transportation companies; guides or guide services; local ground operators; providers or organizers of optional excursions; food service or entertainment providers; etc. All such persons and entities are independent contractors. As a result, Sponsors/Operator are not liable for any negligent or willful act or failure to act of any such person or of any other third party. In addition and without limitation, Sponsors/Operator are not responsible for any injury, loss, death, inconvenience, delay, or damage to person or property in connection with the provision of any goods or services whether resulting from, but not limited to, acts of force majeure; acts of God; acts of government; acts of war or civil unrest, insurrection, or revolt; bites from or attacks by animals, insects, or pests; strikes or other labor activities; criminal or terrorist activities of any kind or the threat thereof; sickness, illness, epidemics, pandemics, or the threat thereof; the lack of availability of or access to medical attention or the quality thereof; overbooking or downgrading of accommodations; mechanical or other failure of airplanes, vessels, or other means of transportation; or for any failure of any transportation mechanism to arrive or depart timely or safely. In addition, Sponsors/Operator are not liable for their own negligence, and participant assumes all risk thereof. CHANGES IN ITINERARY OR FEATURES: Sponsors/Operator reserve the right to change the itinerary or trip features at any time and for any reason, with or without notice, and Sponsors/Operator shall not be liable for any loss of any kind as a result of any such changes. Sponsors/Operator are not required to cancel any trip for any reason including, without limitation, United States Department of State, World Health Organization, or other Warnings or Advisories of any kind. Sponsors/Operator are not responsible for penalties assessed by air carriers resulting from operational and/or itinerary changes, even if Sponsors/Operator make the flight arrangements or cancel the trip. Sponsors/Operator reserve the right to substitute hotels or attractions of a similar category for those listed in this brochure. LUGGAGE: Luggage allowance policies are set by the airlines and may change without prior notice. PHYSICAL ACCESSIBILITY: All programs require physical independence and mobility. Any physical or mental condition that may require special medical attention or physical assistance must be reported in writing when you make your reservation. Participants must be able to embark or disembark transportation vehicles, stand for extended periods, climb stairs, and step over raised thresholds all without assistance. All participants will be required to follow safety/sanitization protocols set forth by Sponsors/Operator, local staff, and host country laws, and any participant who refuses to follow protocols may be asked to leave the program with no refunds provided. REFUNDS: Prices quoted are based on group participation. No refunds will be made for any part of the program in which a participant chooses not to participate. Refunds cannot be made to participants who do not complete the tour for any reason, nor to participants whose entry into any country or aboard any transportation vehicle, including airplanes and cruise ships, is delayed or denied. TOUR CANCELLATIONS AND REFUNDS: Sponsors/Operator reserve the right to cancel this tour prior to departure, in which case payment will be refunded without further obligation on our part unless trip cancellation, itinerary changes, and/or delays are mandated by causes beyond our control, in which case the participant shall have the option of accepting in lieu of the original tour such rescheduled tour or other substituted tour(s) as may be offered by Sponsors/Operator, or else receiving a refund of as much of such advance tour expenditures as Sponsors/Operator are able to recover on the participant's behalf from carriers, third-party tour vendors, etc. Sponsors/Operator, however, shall not have any obligation or liability to the participant beyond the foregoing. TRIP INSURANCE: Sponsors/Operator strongly recommend that participants purchase trip cancellation insurance. In the event that you must cancel your participation, trip cancellation insurance may be the only source of reimbursement. Trip cancellation insurance is available through Sponsors/Operator and others and covers certain expenses in conjunction with cancellation due to illness or accident and damaged or lost luggage. Sponsors/Operator will send participants an application upon receipt of their reservation. PRICES: Prices quoted are based on fares in effect at the time of publication and are subject to changes at any time. On all programs, even after full payment, Sponsors/Operator reserve the right to increase the tour price in the event of cost increases due to changes in supplier costs, tax increases, currency fluctuations, or fuel and energy surcharges, and all such increases are to be paid to Sponsors/Operator upon notice to the participant. FORUM AND METHODOLOGY FOR DISPUTE RESOLUTION: Any dispute or claim which refers or relates to this contract, any literature related to the trip, or the trip itself shall be litigated solely and exclusively in and for courts in Keene, New Hampshire, subject to substantive and procedural New Hampshire law, and for this limited purpose, the parties agree to exclusive venue and personal jurisdiction therein. At the participant's option, however, in lieu of litigation, Sponsors/Operator will agree to binding arbitration in Keene, New Hampshire, subject to substantive, but not procedural, New Hampshire law, pursuant to the then existing commercial rules of the American Arbitration Association. In any such arbitration, the arbitrator, and not any federal, state, or local court or agency, shall have exclusive authority to resolve any dispute relating to the interpretation, applicability, enforceability, conscionability, or formation of this contract, including but not limited to any claim that all or any part of this contract is void or voidable. U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT & CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL: Both the Centers for Disease Control and U.S. State Department publish and update important country-specific information for travelers. We strongly recommend that you review them. They can presently be found at: <https://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel/notices> and <https://travel.state.gov/content/passports/en/alertswarnings.html>. ASSUMPTION OF RISK: Participants agree to fully accept all known and unknown risks, including the potential risk of exposure to respiratory illnesses or other illnesses, viruses, diseases, or conditions. Participants understand and agree to hold Sponsors/Operator, their officers, vendors and suppliers harmless and not liable for any real or perceived symptoms of any disease, virus, illness, or condition, nor for exacerbating any existing symptoms of any illness, virus, disease or condition, quarantine requirements, disability, and other short-term and long-term health effects, including death. MISCELLANEOUS: Participants should not purchase airline tickets prior to receiving their final payment invoice so as to avoid airline cancellation penalties if a tour is canceled or otherwise modified subsequent to the participant's purchase of those tickets. Baggage and personal effects are at all times the sole responsibility of the participant. If, due to weather, flight schedules, or other uncontrollable factors, you are required to spend (an) additional night(s), you will be responsible for your own hotel, transfers, and meal costs. Baggage is entirely at owner's risk. Sponsors/Operator reserve the right to decline to accept or retain any participant at any time. The right is reserved to decline to accept as a participant, or remove from a trip, without refund, any person it judges to be incapable of meeting the rigors and requirements of participating in the activities, or who is abusive to other trip participants, leaders, or third parties, or who is determined to detract from the enjoyment of the trip by others. Specific room assignments are within the sole discretion of the hotel. APPEARING IN PHOTOS: Photos from AIA Tours' trips may be posted on photo-sharing web sites or on social networking sites. Your likeness may appear in some photos or videos, posted either by other travelers or tour lecturers/guides, and the circulation of the materials could be worldwide. Trip photos may also be selected to appear in future AIA Tours promotions; no compensation is available for appearing in a trip photo used for promotional purposes. ACCEPTANCE OF CONTRACT: By forwarding of deposit, the participant certifies that he/she agrees with these terms and conditions, and accepts the terms contained in these Terms and Conditions, Release of Liability, Assumption of Risk and Dispute Resolution Agreement. The participant affirms that he/she has not received or relied upon any oral representation of Sponsors/Operator as a basis for executing this Release.
