All our staff are committed to adhering to all health and safety protocols from the start of your trip to the end as directed by the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, overseas health officials as well as those protocols mandated by your cruise company (if applicable) and other suppliers of services. Detailed protocol information tailored to your travel program will be mailed to you along with additional pre-departure information.

"A TOUTES LES GLOIRES DE LA FRANCE"

France's southeastern region is a scenic tapestry of rolling fields, Gallo-Roman ruins, honey-stone villages and aristocratic cities, imbued with unhurried pastoral charm. The ancient Greeks bestowed vines, the Romans bequeathed archaeological riches, and the 19th-century Post-Impressionists painted the romantic palette of Provence. Paul Cézanne, Paul Gauguin and Marc Chagall were captivated by the rarefied light, vivid spectrum, and "transparent air" famously evoked by Vincent van Gogh. Throughout Provence, Burgundy, and Beaujolais, millennia of rich artistic traditions and engineering ingenuity endure in an incredible collection of Roman antiquities, medieval fortifications and Renaissance palaces.

In the Provence du printemps, abundant flowers, meticulously pruned vines, and idyllic hillsides form a mesmerizing backdrop for a living canvas, where a quaint streetside café in Arles once served as Van Gogh's muse, a 16th-century castle has evolved into a renowned Beaujolais wine estate, and France's oldest Roman theater still stages performances in Lyon's Fourvière district. Experience firsthand southeast France's breathtaking landscapes which remain forever entwined with the nation's achievements in fine art, cuisine, architecture, literature and joie de vivre.

Beaune, Burgundy

Amidst the idyllic Burgundy countryside, visit the picturesque medieval fortress Château de Rully, nestled among Chardonnay vineyards. Count Raoul de Ternay will guide your private tour of the estate, his family's ancestral home since the 12th century. Beaune, founded in the fifth century B.C., is the longtime capital of Burgundy wines, located in the famous Côte d'Or département. This historical city and its surrounding terroirs, vineyards, and cultural landscape comprise a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Tour the legendary Burgundian Renaissance-style Hôtel-Dieu, a charitable hospital in the Middle Ages and one of the finest examples of 15th-century French architecture, lauded for its varnished polychrome Flemish tiled roof and Gothic turrets.

Beaujolais

The lovely vineyards of Beaujolais, known as the "land of the golden stones" for its warm-hued architecture, produce France's fruity nouveau wines. This internationally acclaimed wine region along the banks of the Saône River has been known to produce more red wine than the Burgundy vineyards of Chablis, Côte d'Or,

The second largest wine region in France, the Rhône Valley, is producing some of the world's most famous wines.

Côte Chalonnaise, and Mâconnais combined.

In the fertile heart of Beaujolais, visit the 10th-century Château de Montmelas, where a distinguished member of the family will greet you and guide your exclusive tour. Enjoy a private, specially arranged performance of fortepiano music by an internationally recognized pianist, accompanied by a wine tasting and local canapés.

Lyon, Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes

A UNESCO World Heritage site, Lyon is a captivating city at the confluence of the Rhône and Saône Rivers. From lofty Fourvière Hill, enjoy views of the neo-Byzantine Basilique Notre-Dame de Fourvière, the symbol of Lyon. Walk the tree-lined streets of the restored Old Lyon, where well-preserved Gothic and Renaissance mansions attest to the wealth of Lyon's long-standing silk industry. Stroll through the ancient quarter of Saint-Jean and its secret hidden passageways, which the French call traboules. Discover artifacts from the city's ancient Roman past at the Gallo-Roman Museum.

Avignon, Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur

Built on the banks of the Rhône and ringed by low medieval walls, the ancient city of Avignon is a UNESCO World Heritage site. The city formed the axis of Western Christendom from 1309, when Pope Clement V moved the papal capital here, until the Great Schism with Rome in 1378. Tour the grandiose papal palace, the largest château-fort built in Europe during the Gothic era. Taste wines from the Rhône Valley at Carré du Palais, located on the square in front of the palace.

At the river's edge, see the remaining four arches of the famed 12th-century Pont d'Avignon (also known as Pont Saint-Bénézet), the only bridge built across the Rhône during the Middle Ages and an exceptional example of medieval fortifications.

Arles

One of France's loveliest towns, this archetypal Provençal city, unmatched in its joie de vivre, is home to one of the most majestic collections of UNESCO World Heritage-designated Roman monuments. Its colorful houses, bathed in golden light, inspired Vincent van Gogh, who produced over 200 works during his 14-month stay in 1888. Browse the ancient wonders in the halls of Arles' Museum of Antiquity.

Visit the magnificently restored Roman amphitheater, built in the first century B.C. for 20,000 spectators, and the 12th-century Église Saint-Trophime, a former cathedral known for its Last Judgment-themed portal. Enjoy a tasting of wine and olive oil from nearby Baux de Provence at a local shop during a walking tour of the city.

Orange

Traverse the pastoral French countryside, passing colorful fields and stucco houses.

Known to the ancient Romans as Arar, the Saône River descends from the Vosges to meander through inviting medieval villages and the picturesque French countryside.

The Rhône Valley vineyards thrive on both sides of the river, and the town of Orange is famous for its Roman ruins.

Arles' Romanesque architecture reflects its history as a vital port on the Roman road from Italy to Spain.

Admire Orange's UNESCO World Heritage sites—visit the ancient Roman theater, the best preserved of its kind in the world and dominated by a colossal stage wall with an ornate façade embellished with columns, doorways and niches. Built in 40 B.C., the theater was closed for several centuries, served as a defensive post during the Middle Ages, and today hosts concerts and performances. See the Triumphal Arch, built in the late first century in testimony to Augustus Caesar and Roman imperial glory.

See the first-century Pont du Gard aqueduct, which was built with 55,550 tons of soft limestone blocks.

Pont du Gard, Occitanie

Visit the UNESCO World Heritage-designated Pont du Gard, an exquisitely built 2,000-year-old Roman aqueduct that triumphs as one of Europe's most impressive archaeological sites. The 31-mile aqueduct once supplied over nine million gallons of water daily to the city of Nîmes, and is hailed for its 82-foot arch gap—one of the largest spans in the Roman world. Continue to the Pavillon des Vins in the heart of Châteauneuf du Pape for a visit and wine tasting.

Vienne, Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes

Located at a scenic bend in the Rhône River, Vienne features a trove of architectural treasures. The Romans' major wine port, Vienne was of great strategic importance, and some of the finest Classical antiquities that remain there are a testament to its past glory. See the striking Corinthian columns of the pristinely preserved Temple of Augustus and Livia, built around 10 B.C. in honor of Rome's greatest emperor, and the beautifully restored Roman amphitheater at the foot of Mont Pipet. The town's most notable medieval landmark, constructed between the 12th and 16th centuries and dedicated to Saint Maurice, is the Romanesque-Gothic Vienne Cathedral. Conclude your walking tour with a visit to Saint Romain-en-Gal, a vast Gallo-Roman archaeological site and museum.

Enjoy specially arranged Valrhona chocolate and wine tastings with a well-known French oenologist on board the ship.

The 12th-century legend of Saint Bénézet attests that the shepherd boy was endowed with the strength to lay the stones of the Pont d'Avignon in the Rhône River with his own hands.
