Fall 2022 Foothill College Field School in California

- California Cultural Resource Management firms are looking for new employees.
- Foothill students are getting jobs.
- Why not you?
- One quarter of coursework.
- No program fees.
- Why spend thousands on a field school when it is all available here at home during the school year.
- Equitable and Economical

Fridays Sept 30 – Dec 9, 2022

The Anthropology Department is launching a new California field school program that offers a suite of hands-on field courses aimed at developing excavation and lab ready employees in the CRM industry. After 12 weeks our students are prepared for a job in CRM. We have placed hundreds of students over the years in field tech jobs, transfer positions, and graduate schools via our field programs. Building on our experience this past year in Portola Valley, California, the Anthropology Department has developed a local program nearby that students can enjoy with minimal time commitment and cost.

Working closely with Midpeninsula Regional Open Space District and State Parks we will provide a student field school experience at Hawthorns Ranch in Portola Valley. What traditionally has been an expensive summer field school experience is being offered during the school year via 4 units of these Spring Quarter courses beginning in April. Contact Dr. Sam Connell connellsamuel@foothill.edu or apply here.

1. ANTH 51 – Intro to Survey (Fridays 8AM-2PM; 2 units - 6 field hrs/week)
2. ANTH 16L – Archaeology Lab (Fridays 2PM-5PM; 1 unit - 3 lab hrs/week)
3. ANTH 57 - Applied Archaeology Field Methods (TBD; 1 unit)

Supplemental Classroom based courses (not required)

1. ANTH 8 – Intro to Archaeology (online)