

China

Liulihe Excavation

Step into the past and ignite your sense of adventure as you uncover the mysteries of the Liulihe archaeological site near modern-day Beijing. Dating back nearly 3,000 years, this Bronze Age city was a thriving cultural and political hub, showcasing early innovations in urban planning, social organization, and ceremonial practices. From rammed-earth walls to intricate tombs and ceremonial relics, Liulihe offers a rare glimpse into life during the fascinating Western Zhou period. Join IFR to gain hands-on archaeological skills, explore iconic sites, and create memories that will inspire a lifetime of discovery.

Why you'll love this program

Real-World Research

Help investigate the urban planning, architecture, and burial practices of Bronze Age China.

Field & Lab Skills

Gain experience in archaeological survey, excavation, drawing, sampling & recording of tombs.

Unforgettable Location

Explore Beijing's dynamic blend of culture & history, including visits to UNESCO sites.

Make a Difference

Help uncover this significant Bronze-Age city and preserve its legacy for future generations.

Field School Details

Summer Program in China

- 4-week immersive archaeology program
- Earn 7 semester credits/10 quarter credits
- Fieldwork, seminars & lab-based research
- Cultural enrichment activities and field trips included
- Shared accommodation + meals provided

Discover More

info@ifrglobal.org

www.ifrglobal.org