Circumnavigating the Peloponnese
by Private Luxury Yacht aboard the 50-Cabin

Emerald Azzurra

with archaeologists JACK DAVIS and SHARI STOCKER

Dear Traveler,

I AM PLEASED TO INVITE YOU on this special circumnavigation of Greece's Peloponnese peninsula in the company of two special AIA lecturers and hosts, archaeologists Jack Davis and Shari Stocker. You will spend a night in Athens and then cruise around the Peloponnese aboard the luxurious, 50-cabin *Emerald Azzurra for seven nights.

Along the way, Jack and Shari will be part of a team of onboard experts who together will offer a series of lectures and informal discussions. This cruise, aboard this ship, with these experts, is an unmatched way to experience a beautiful and deeply historical part of Greece that is filled with archaeological delights.

Your adventure begins with a night in the heart of historic Athens and a private visit to either the Goulandris Museum of Cycladic Art or the Benaki Museum of Greek Culture. Then you will embark Emerald Azzurra, whose sleek design grants access to hidden harbors and a rare, full circumnavigation of the Peloponnese peninsula.

Along the way, visit five UNESCO World Heritage Sites: Mycenae, the fabled Bronze Age citadel; Epidaurus, known for its perfectly preserved ancient theater; Mystras, a remarkable Byzantine city; Olympia, birthplace of the Olympic Games; and Delphi, once home to the most influential oracle in the ancient world. Perhaps the highlight of the program will be our special access — thanks to Jack and Shari — at Nestor's Palace at Pylos, one of Greece's best-preserved Mycenaean palaces.

Between guided visits, explore coastal towns such as Nafplion, Gythio, and Pylos, each with deep historical roots. Conclude the voyage with a spectacular passage through the Corinth Canal before returning to Athens. Also available are a two-night, pre-tour extension in Athens and a four-night, post-tour extension cruise in the Aegean.

This program is co-sponsored by other organizations, so I encourage you to contact AIA Tours today at (800) 748-6262 or aia@studytours.org to reserve your preferred suite or stateroom.

Sincerely,

Lauren Cummings

For more than a century the AIA has been dedicated to the encouragement and support of archaeological research and publication, and to the protection of the world's archaeological resources and cultural heritage. By traveling on an AIA tour you directly support the AIA while personally gaining the benefit of the AIA's network of scholars and worldwide contacts.

AIA LECTURERS/HOSTS

Since 1993, JACK DAVIS has held the endowed post of Carl Blegen Professor of Greek Archaeology at the University of Cincinnati and, since 2015, he has co-directed the team that discovered the spectacular grave of the Griffin Warrior and two Mycenaean beehive tombs at the Palace of Nestor at Pylos. Davis has authored or edited a dozen books and has written or co-authored some 120 articles in scholarly journals. For his work he has been honored by the German and Finnish archaeological institutes in Greece, and by the Archaeological Society of Athens. He is an honorary citizen of Pylos, and has been medaled by both the presidents of Greece and Albania. He is a fellow of the Society of Antiquaries of London and a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He has received the Archaeological Institute of America's Gold Medal for lifetime achievement. Davis is a former director of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens (ASCSA). He is at present a Trustee of that institution as well as an Overseer of its Gennadius Library. Most recently the Trustees of the ASCSA have awarded him its prestigious Athens Prize.

SHARON R. STOCKER has worked on archaeological projects in the U.S. and Greece and, since 1996, has been directing archaeological excavations at Pylos and in Albania. Since 2011 she has lived year-round in Pylos, where she is an honorary citizen, initially to direct a U. of Cincinnati team collaborating with the Greek Ministry of Culture in improving touristic facilities at the Palace of Nestor. That collaboration resulted in the construction of the magnificent shelter that today protects the Mycenaean palace's remains. Stocker co-directed the team that discovered the unparalleled grave of the Griffin Warrior in 2015 and two previously unknown Mycenaean beehive tombs in 2018. She continues to supervise that work on a year-round basis. Stocker coordinated efforts that brought exhibits of finds from these excavations to the Museum of Messenia, the J. Paul Getty Villa, and the National Museum of Athens in 2025-26. She has been honored for her work by the president of Greece, who appointed her a commander in the Order of the Phoenix, and by the Giuseppe Sciacca Foundation of Vatican City. She is a fellow of the Society of Antiquaries of London and served for several years as President of the Archaeological Institute of America's Cincinnati society.
