Cusco & Machu Picchu

October 19-24, 2026 (6 days)

This tour requires an elevated level of fitness.

Archaeological Institute of America Lecturer & Host

Gabriela Cervantes-Quequezana (Ph.D., University of Pittsburgh) is a Peruvian anthropological archaeologist. She has done extensive field research through survey and excavations in several regions of Peru, including the north, south, coast, and highlands. Gabriela is the director of the Chira Archaeological Project, which investigates local north coast societies like Tallán and the impact that expanding states such as Lambayeque and empires such as Chimú and Inka had on local communities. She researches ancient demographic patterns, political integration, monumental and domestic architecture, craft production of ceramics and metals, gender dynamics and women in ancient societies, economic inequality in the archaeological record, and more. Gabriela has led AIA tours of Peru twice since 2023 with excellent reviews, and looks forward to leading this 2026 tour. Through illustrated lectures and informal discussions, she will provide an understanding of the numerous ancient Peruvian societies whose sites we visit, and the complex processes of adaption they each made in the many different ecological regions of Peru.

"This is the first group tour we've done where the tour leader, the expert, and all the supporting cast were from the host country. This makes for a very rich experience - this is their country, their heritage, their people! Gabriela is exceptional! She has lived the archaeological experience in Peru, is obviously highly regarded by colleagues she has worked with, speaks with authority, and is very accessible."

- Jacqueline, Hawaii

The thirteen towers at Chankillo stretch across a ridgeline, forming an artificial horizon that allowed ancient sky watchers to track the movement of the sun with extraordinary accuracy.

From the remains of monumental pyramids at Caral-Supe to the richly decorated temples of the Moche and Chimú, this journey reveals more than five millennia of innovation, artistry, and ritual practice.

Highlights include:

- The Americas' earliest urban centers: Explore the UNESCO-listed Caral-Supe and visit the early coastal sites of Bandurria and Vichama, featuring sunken plazas, stepped pyramids, and striking friezes
- Major ceremonial sites: Experience Pachacamac, tour Sechín with its carved warrior bas-reliefs, and see Chankillo (UNESCO), one of the world's earliest solar observatories
- Moche and Chimú achievements: Visit Huaca de la Luna and the vast adobe capital of Chan Chan (UNESCO), masterpieces of coastal architecture and artistic expression

ITINERARY

B= Breakfast • L= Lunch • D= Dinner

Thursday, October 8, 2026: Depart home | Arrive Lima, Peru

Depart home on independent flights to Lima, Peru. Upon arrival at Lima's Jorge Chávez International Airport (LIM), you will be met and transferred to our hotel. The remainder of the day and dinner are at leisure. Three nights at the 5-star Hotel Indigo Lima Miraflores.

Friday, October 9: Lima: Introductory meeting, Huaca Pucllana pyramid, Larco Museum | Welcome dinner

After breakfast, gather for an introductory meeting and lecture followed by an independent lunch. This afternoon we visit Huaca Pucllana, an imposing adobe pyramid nestled in the heart of the city. This pre-Inca ceremonial center, built more than 1,500 years ago, offers a glimpse into the ancient cultures that once thrived along the Peruvian coast. Next, we tour the Larco Museum, home to Peru's most important collection of pre-Columbian art. A private talk with the museum's curator, archaeologist Julio Rucabado (pending schedule confirmation), will add insight to the collection. Our day concludes with a welcome dinner at the Café del Museo, surrounded by enchanting gardens and colonial architecture. (B,D)

Saturday, October 10: Pachacamac | Lima

This morning, we drive 20 miles south of Lima in the Lurin Valley to the archaeological site of Pachacamac, one of ancient Peru's most famous religious centers. It was here that the oracle to the great god Pachacamac, the most important deity of pre-Hispanic coastal Peru, resided. This sanctuary was built and remodeled by the Lima, Ichma, and Inca civilizations using mud bricks. We visit the local museum to get a better overview of the site, as well as examine various artifacts found in the area. Return to our hotel for an evening and dinner at leisure. (B,L)

Sunday, October 11: Huaura Valley: Bandurria & Vichama | Caral

We check-out of our hotel and drive approximately two hours north to Bandurria, in the Huaura Valley, one of Peru's oldest known coastal urban centers, dating between 3200 and 4000 B.C. The site features ceremonial architecture such as sunken circular plazas, stepped pyramids, and residential platforms, reflecting an early and sophisticated form of social organization and offering a rare archaeological and ecological window into their remarkable adaptation to arid coastal environments. We continue to Vichama, a major site dating from 1800 to 1500 B.C. Associated with the late stages of the Caral civilization, Vichama is best known for its striking high-relief friezes carved in adobe and plaster. Drive onward to Caral and arrive at our hotel late in the afternoon with time to relax before gathering for dinner. Two nights at the 3-star Hotel La Empedrada Ranch & Lodge by Casa Andina. (B,L,D)

Monday, October 12: Caral-Supe | PM at leisure or Optional excursion to Peñico | Caral

Today we tour the seldom-visited sacred city of Caral-Supe, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and the oldest known civilization in the Americas, which thrived between approximately 3000 and 1800 B.C. Located in the Supe Valley, Caral spans over 1,480 acres and contains 32 monumental structures, including platform pyramids, sunken circular plazas, residential quarters, and ceremonial spaces. Scientific research highlights Caral's complex social organization and early achievements in architecture, governance, and communication. After lunch at our hotel you may choose to relax, explore independently, or join an optional excursion to the recently opened archaeological site of Peñico, a smaller settlement from the later stages of the Caral civilization. This site reveals a more compact architectural layout, with platform mounds, residential compounds, and ceremonial spaces that reflect adaptation to changing environmental and social conditions. Return to our hotel in the late afternoon and then gather for dinner this evening. (B,L,D)

Tuesday, October 13: Chankillo | Sechín | Trujillo

We set out early this morning, heading north to discover two of the most fascinating archaeological sites on Peru's desert coast. Our first stop is Chankillo, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and one of the world's earliest solar observatories. Its remarkable Thirteen Towers stretch across a ridgeline, forming an artificial horizon that allowed ancient sky watchers to track the movement of the sun with extraordinary accuracy. After a seaside lunch in La Gramita we continue to Sechín, one of the most enigmatic ceremonial centers of the Peruvian coast. Dating to around 1600

B.C., Sechín is renowned for its megalithic architecture and more than 300 carved bas-reliefs portraying warrior-priests, ritual combat, and sacrifice.

Linked to the larger Sechín Alto and Sechín Bajo complexes, it speaks of a long and interconnected tradition. We continue to Trujillo, where we check-in to our hotel and gather for dinner. Two nights at the 4-star Doubletree by Hilton Trujillo. (B,L,D)

Batán Grande archaeological complex, Pomac Forest

Wednesday, October 14: Huacas del Sol y de la Luna | Chan Chan | Trujillo

Today we travel to the Moche Valley to explore the cultural heart of one of Peru's most influential ancient civilizations, Huacas del Sol y de la Luna archaeological complex, the ceremonial center of the Moche civilization, which flourished between A.D. 100 and 900. We begin with a tour of the site museum, where we gain insight into the Moche's sophisticated society, symbolic art, and religious traditions. We then explore the Huaca de la Luna, a truncated pyramid built between the 1st and 7th centuries A.D. It is particularly renowned for its polychrome friezes, which depict gods, elements of nature, and scenes of human sacrifice. After lunch in Huanchaco, we explore the legacy of the Chimú Kingdom, whose capital city, Chan Chan, reached its height in the 15th century before being conquered by the Incas. As the largest pre-Columbian city in the Americas and a UNESCO World Heritage Site, it is renowned for its meticulous urban planning, reflecting an advanced political and social structure. Its monumental zone includes nine large palatial compounds, adorned with intricately carved adobe walls. We return to Trujillo and enjoy an independent dinner this evening. (B,L)

Moche Ceramic at the Royal Tombs of Sipán Museum

Thursday, October 15: Huaca Cao Viejo | Chiclayo

Today we drive north and visit El Brujo Archaeological Complex, one of the most emblematic sites of the Moche civilization, which thrived between the 1st and 8th centuries A.D. The centerpiece of the complex is Huaca Cao Viejo where, in 2005, the tomb of the Señora de Cao was uncovered—she was a high-ranking Moche woman whose burial challenged long-held assumptions about gender and power in ancient societies. After exploring the museum, we continue to the pyramid itself, whose walls are decorated with striking murals that depict ceremonial scenes and ritual narratives. From the top of the structure, we can take in panoramic views of other Moche pyramids and the nearby Huaca Prieta, a pre-Ceramic site of great archaeological importance. After lunch at Pacasmayo we continue on to the city of Chiclayo, where we check-in to our hotel and gather for dinner. Three nights at the 4-star Casa Andina Select Chiclayo. (B,L,D)

Friday, October 16: Sicán Museum (Lord of Sicán tomb) | Pomac Forest Historical Sanctuary: Batán Grande | Túcume | Chiclayo

Today we start at the Sicán Museum, dedicated to an ancient society predating the Incas by a thousand years. Displaying renowned golden funerary masks and ceremonial knives (tumi), the museum includes replicas of colossal, 39-foot-deep tombs at Batán Grande, among the largest in South America. Enigmatic burials within these tombs feature the Lord of Sicán, buried in a unique, upside-down fetal position, accompanied by two women and two adolescents. We then head north to the Pomac Forest Historical Sanctuary, where our AIA lecturer works. The Pomac dry forest is a special ecosystem and the largest dry forest in Peru. It is home to the Batán Grande archaeological complex, the religious, administrative, and economic center of the Lambayeque culture, which served as a hub for controlling metal production and coordinating prestigious object exchange across South America. Our final stop of the day is Túcume, a spectacular archaeological complex with mud-structured pyramids representing the last development of the Lambayeque culture. Known as the Valley of the Pyramids, initially occupied by the Sicán people around A.D. 1000, it later fell under Chimú control in 1375, only to be defeated by the Inca less than 100 years later. Enjoy an independent dinner this evening. (B,L)

Huaca Cao Viejo

Saturday, October 17: Royal Tombs of Sipán Museum | Huaca Rajada | Chiclayo

Begin the day with a visit to the Royal Tombs of Sipán Museum, which displays artifacts from the significant Sipán excavations (Huaca Rajada), where archaeologist Walter Alva's 1987 discovery of the Lord of Sipán's tomb revolutionized archaeology, and today hosts the remains and treasures of the tomb's esteemed Moche-era warrior priest in a captivating permanent exhibition. After lunch, we visit Huaca Rajada, the actual tomb of the Lord of Sipán, located just outside Sipán village. This archaeological site comprises three pyramids with 14 separate tombs and chambers, showcasing hierarchy and importance. Dating back to A.D. 100, a millennium before the Inca Empire, the site's miraculously intact tomb has escaped the clutches of local huaqueros (grave robbers). Return to Chiclayo for dinner at a local restaurant. (B,L,D)

Sunday, October 18: Fly to Lima | Lima: Farewell lunch, Colonial Lima

This morning we take a group flight to Lima, arriving in time for a farewell lunch. Afterward, we continue to downtown Lima and the Plaza de Armas (Main Square), where we stroll among the splendid colonial architecture of prominent landmarks such as the Government Palace, Cathedral of Lima, and City Hall. Our last stop is La Casa Aliaga, a colonial mansion with the distinction of being the oldest continuously inhabited private residence in the Southern Hemisphere. Dinner and the evening are at leisure, with time to pack. Overnight at the 5-star Hotel Indigo Lima Miraflores. (B,L)

Monday, October 19: Fly home OR Fly to Cusco for the Optional Extension

Transfer to Lima's Jorge Chávez International Airport (LIM) for flights homeward or join the group flight to Cusco for the post-tour extension. (B)

CUSCO & MACHU PICCHU

OCTOBER 19-24, 2026 (6 days)

Monday, October 19, 2026: Fly from Lima to Cusco

This morning we transfer to Lima's Jorge Chávez International Airport (LIM) for our group flight to Cusco. Arrive in Cusco, where we are met by our local guide, and check-in to our hotel with the afternoon free to enjoy its property and amenities. Dinner and the evening are at leisure. Overnight at the 5-star Palacio Del Inka or similar.

Tuesday, October 20: Sacred Valley: Pisac | Archaeological Park of Pisac | Sacred Valley

Today we drive into the Sacred Valley, stopping in the quaint town of Pisac, famous for its artisan markets, where we will have a chance to explore. After lunch we travel into the hills above the town to visit the Archaeological Park of Pisac, which was most likely a royal estate of the Inca ruler Pachacutec. Check-in to our lodge and gather this evening for dinner. Two nights at the 4-star Casa Andina Premium Valle Sagrado or similar. (B,L,D)

Wednesday, October 21: Ollantaytambo | Maras | Moray | Sacred Valley

Today we head into the hills above the Sacred Valley. Our first stop is in the town of Ollantaytambo to visit its Inca temple/fortress. Many of the town's houses date to the Inca period and are still occupied by local families. Continue on to the salt mines at Maras, which have been in use since pre-Hispanic times. Our last stop of the day is the archaeological site of Moray, where we find a series of circular terraces whose purpose has been the subject of much debate by archaeologists over the years. Return to our hotel and gather for dinner. (B,L,D)

Thursday, October 22: Train to Machu Picchu Pueblo | Machu Picchu

This morning we drive to Ollantaytambo and take the Vistadome train to Machu Picchu Pueblo, where we have lunch just a short walk from the train station. Then we board a shuttle bus for Machu Picchu, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Spend the afternoon exploring the most important parts of the site, until it closes. (Note that most visitors leave by early afternoon, to catch the train back to Cusco, so in the late afternoon we can enjoy the site with relative peace and quiet.) Check-in to our hotel, located at the foot of the Machu Picchu Sanctuary, and gather for dinner. Overnight at the 5-star Sumaq Machu Picchu Hotel or similar. (B,L,D)

Friday, October 23: Machu Picchu | Train to Ollantaytambo | Cusco | Farewell dinner

After breakfast we enjoy a second visit of Machu Picchu, focusing on more of the most important sectors of this beautiful Inca citadel. Return to our hotel for lunch, and then return by shuttle bus to Machu Picchu Pueblo to catch the Vistadome train back to Ollantaytambo. We drive onward to Cusco, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, and check-in to our hotel with the balance of the day at leisure before we gather for a farewell dinner. Overnight at the 5-star Palacio Del Inka or similar. (B,L,D)

Saturday, October 24: Sacsayhuaman | Cusco: City tour | Fly to Lima | Fly home

This morning we drive to Sacsayhuaman, an Inca fortress in the hills overlooking the city. Its size and scope are amazing, particularly the huge stones (many weighing dozens of tons) that were used to build its walls. Returning to Cusco we will have a city tour beginning at the cathedral on the main plaza. Cusco's cathedral is considered to be the best repository of colonial art in Peru. Continue on to the Qoricancha ("Temple of the Sun"), which was the most sacred space in Inca Cusco. The Dominicans built their church atop the Qoricancha, and an earthquake in 1950 destroyed portions of that church, uncovering the Inca walls we see today. A boxed lunch will be provided as we transfer to the Cusco airport in time for our group flight to Lima (LIM), connecting to independent flights homeward. (B,L)

What to Expect

ACTIVE: Must be able to walk three or more miles per day on mostly uneven terrain, and up and down inclines and steps.

You must be in good physical health to participate in this program. All participants are expected to be physically active and not be an impediment to others on excursions, to enjoy traveling as part of a group, and to be ready to experience cultural differences.

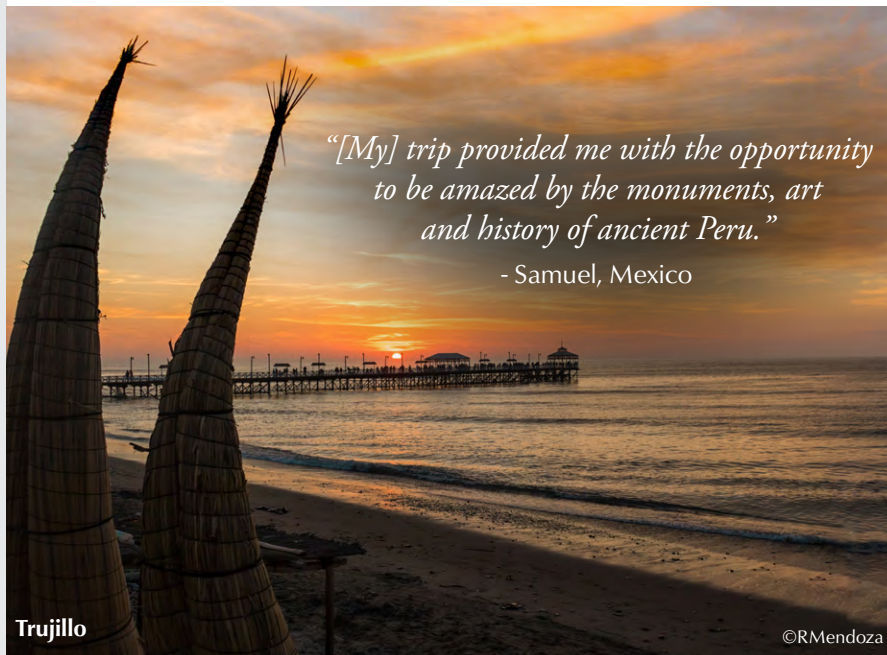

Given the nature of this itinerary to travel to lesser-visited sites, there will be days with long drives, some up to 3-4 hours long, with comfort stops along the way.

Some sites require strenuous and/or brisk walking or climbing, sometimes with difficult footing, and/or steep, uneven, stone steps, and sandy paths. This itinerary features a significant amount of walking, and to reap the full rewards of this adventure travelers must be able to walk extended periods, unassisted, keeping up with fellow travelers. Participants who are not able to stand and walk unassisted for extended periods are kindly advised not to join this tour. All participants will be required to follow safety/sanitization protocols set forth by Sponsors/Operator, local staff, and host country laws. Any participant showing signs of illness will be asked to wear a mask when in close proximity to others. If the tour manager decides that a participant cannot visit a site safely or in a timely manner, their judgment will be final. Where possible, an alternate activity may be suggested; additional costs may apply. If you have any questions about your ability to participate, we suggest that you visit your personal physician with this brochure in hand and discuss whether or not this program is appropriate for you.

Hotels have been chosen for both comfort and ideal locations. Amenities in rural areas will be basic, but comfortable. This program covers a lot of territory and, given the diversity in climate, you may experience a range of temperatures from the mid-60s to the low 80s F during the day, and dropping to the high 50s F at night. Wearing layers and proper footwear is advisable. Some sites will require being in direct sunlight so proper hydration, sunscreen, a hat, and protective clothing will be essential. Complete pre-departure details will be sent to participants.

Sponsors/Operator reserve the right to substitute hotels or attractions of a similar category for those listed in this brochure. LUGGAGE: Luggage allowance policies are set by the airlines and may change without prior notice. PHYSICAL ACCESSIBILITY: All programs require physical independence and mobility. Any physical or mental condition that may require special medical attention or physical assistance must be reported in writing when you make your reservation. Participants must be able to embark or disembark transportation vehicles, stand for extended periods, climb stairs, and step over raised thresholds all without assistance. All participants will be required to follow safety/sanitization protocols set forth by Sponsors/Operator, local staff, and host country laws, and any participant who refuses to follow protocols may be asked to leave the program with no refunds provided. REFUNDS: Prices quoted are based on group participation. Sponsors/Operator will send participants an application upon receipt of their reservation. PRICES: Prices quoted are based on fares in effect at the time of publication and are subject to changes at any time. On all programs, even after full payment, Sponsors/Operator reserve the right to increase the tour price in the event of cost increases due to changes in supplier costs, tax increases, currency fluctuations, or fuel and energy surcharges, and all such increases are to be paid to Sponsors/Operator upon notice to the participant. FORUM AND METHODOLOGY FOR DISPUTE RESOLUTION: Any dispute or claim which refers or relates to this contract, any literature related to the trip, or the trip itself shall be litigated solely and exclusively in and for courts in Keene, New Hampshire, subject to substantive and procedural New Hampshire law, and for this limited purpose, the parties agree to exclusive venue and personal jurisdiction therein. At the participant's option, however, in lieu of litigation, Sponsors/Operator will agree to binding arbitration in Keene, New Hampshire, subject to substantive, but not procedural, New Hampshire law, pursuant to the then existing commercial rules of the American Arbitration Association. In any such arbitration, the arbitrator, and not any federal, state, or local court or agency, shall have exclusive authority to resolve any dispute relating to the interpretation, applicability, enforceability, conscionability, or formation of this contract, including but not limited to any claim that all or any part of this contract is void or voidable. U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT & CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL: Both the Centers for Disease Control and U.S. State Department publish and update important country-specific information for travelers.
