

2023 FIELD SCHOOL COTTONWOOD SPRING PUEBLO

This summer NMSU Anthropology will continue its archaeological research field school at Cottonwood Spring Pueblo (LA 175) on the western flanks of the San Andres Mountains just north of Las Cruces, NM. This 14th century village dwarfs most other El Paso phase sites (A.D. 1300-1450). Students live in town and commute to the site Monday through Thursday. We devote Fridays to guest lectures and cleaning, sorting, typing and cataloging artifacts in the lab on campus. We will also be taking an extended field trip to Chaco Canyon National Historical Park in mid June.

Applications due, March 10 2023
ANTH 388, ANTH 488, ANTH 522

NMSU
ARCHAEOLOGICAL FIELD SCHOOL

GAIN EXPERIENCE
IN EXCAVATION, MAPPING, AND LABORATORY
ANALYSIS

6 CREDITS
TUITION + $850
COURSE FEE

SUMMER 1
MAY 25 – JUNE 30

CAMPING TRIP TO CHACO CANYON

CONTACT
DR. WILLIAM WALKER
FOR APPLICATIONS
WIWALKER@NMSU.EDU

